

Genicia Corney

Ms. G | Author • Speaker • Kingdom Builder

MsGwrites.com

About Genicia

Genicia Corney is a wife, mother, author, and Kingdom builder whose life is a living testament to what happens when you say yes to God, even when the assignment surprises you. Born into a military family and raised moving across the country and around the world, Genicia found her anchor early — in Jesus Christ.

By day, she is an Industrial-Organizational Psychologist and Consultant. She also serves as a Sabbath school teacher for Pre-K through elementary students at her church, and mentors Spelman College women through the Braven leadership program as a proud alumna. Her debut children's book, A Home to Call Their Own: A Tale of Trusting God, was written on maternity leave in October 2025 — a divine deposit completed before the year was over. More books for children, young adults, and grown-ups are already in the works.

DEBUT BOOK

*A Home to Call Their Own:
A Tale of Trusting God*

Ages 6-8 | Children's Christian Fiction | Coming Soon

Speaking & Engagement Topics

Genicia is available for a wide range of meaningful engagements for children, families, educators, and ministry communities.

● Author Visits for Schools

Curriculum-connected experiences that bring literacy to life and leave students inspired.

● Interactive Read-Aloud Sessions

Expressive storytelling that captivates young audiences and sparks a love of reading.

● Church & Children's Ministry

Faith-centered storytelling that speaks directly to the hearts of children and families.

● Faith-Based Family Events

Programming that brings families together around shared values and the joy of reading.

● Speaking Engagements

Inspiring talks for educators, parents, youth groups, and community organizations.

● Book Readings & Storytime

For libraries, bookstores, festivals, and family events — audiences of all ages welcome.

● Writing Encouragement Sessions

A nurturing space where aspiring young readers and writers are affirmed and equipped.

● Classroom Literacy Enrichment

Interactive, standards-aligned sessions that support teachers and delight students.

● Panel Discussions & Interviews

Thoughtful dialogue on faith, childhood literacy, representation in books, and authorship.

● Conferences & Special Appearances

Community programs, seasonal celebrations, and signature events — every stage, every audience.